

To FCC:

I am deeply concerned regarding your consideration to limit competition in the marketplace. If local broadcasters offered content of equal quality to XM then they should have no concerns. Who would pay for radio when free services of equal quality is available. The true issue here is that NAB does not want to work to earn my attention and time.

Please side with competition and allow the marketplace to dictate listenership.

Sincerely,

William Baker